

JPW

December 5, 2005

Brian Healy
Primary Examiner
Art Unit 2883
United States Department of Commerce
United States Patent and Trademark Office
Commissioner for Patents
Post Office Box 1450
Alexandria, Virginia, 22313-1450

Dear Brian,

Subject: Patent application number 10/732,857

Thank you for allowing me to chat with you from time to time on the telephone. These conversations are helpful in fulfilling the requirements of patent filing.

Please find enclosed the following:

1. Second revision of my defense of my patent claim against Patent Application 20040091201 (44 pages)
2. Second revision of my defense of my patent claim against Patent Application 20040037708 (49 pages)
3. A list of claims form June of this year

The format of my arguments has been changed. There are two documents. One of the documents addresses Patent Application 20040091201, and the other addresses Patent Application 20040037708. Each document is begun with a table that has in brief the points that differ between Patent Application 10/732,857 and the other patent applications in the form of a table. Then, each of my 14 claims are discussed phrase by phrase to present my arguments for the uniqueness of my invention. After the arguments based on my 14 claims, each document has an Appendix A in which the arguments based on the claims presented in the patent application that has been proposed as being the same as my invention. In these appendices, references to the claim number have been removed so that no confusion may arise.

I have reproduced, for this correspondence, a list of my 14 claims that are in the former that they have been in since June this year.

If questions arise please do not hesitate to contact me by mail or by telephone.

Best regards,

Gary Poovey
28557 Lemon Avenue
Escalon, California 95320
209-838-8612